

How to set up a Netflix Party movie night

Everyone needs Netflix

Everyone needs Chrome

After everyone has logged in to Netflix on their computers, they'll need to download the Netflix Party extension. Here's how.

1. Visit netflixparty.com in your Google Chrome browser.
2. Click Get Netflix Party for free.
3. You'll be redirected to the Google Chrome web store page to download the extension. Click Add to Chrome.
4. A pop-up box will open. Select Add Extension. You'll now see a grey NP icon in your browser toolbar.

Start watching movies with friends

1. Open a new tab in your Google Chrome browser and log in to Netflix.
2. Find a show or movie you'd like to watch and click on it.
3. You'll now see that the NP (Netflix Party) icon has changed from grey to red.
4. Click the icon and select Start the party. You'll become the host, so you can either select the option for you to be the only controller pausing and playing the show, or you can let anyone take control.
5. Copy the URL from the pop-up box and send it to everyone you want to invite to the group.
6. The chat room will appear on the right side of the screen. From there, you'll be able to see when someone joins the party
